"The ignited mind is the most powerful resource on earth" said Abdul Kalam, our former President. On this wonderful occasion of the Diamond Jubilee Year of Shivaji College, it gives me immense pride to retrospect on all our numerous achievements through the decades.

Imbued in the high values of a well rounded education at Shivaji College, we celebrate the achievements of our students, faculty and our beloved institution in this newsletter, a bi-annual endeavour of the college. This is a record of all our activities during the academic semester January-May 2021, as well as the accolades and memorable moments that add colour and nostalgia to the multifaceted nature of life in this institution.

It has been an exceptionally challenging semester, but I commend the sheer hard work and enthusiasm of all Shivajians, who have joined hands with me to be warriors against Covid 19, emerging winners. We have organised webinars, online events, debates and competitions, initiatives of committees and societies such as Cultural Committee, Enactus, Spade, Placement Cell, Entrepreneurship Development Cell (EDC) and Finance and Investment Cell (FIC). We have maintained our belief in community outreach and selfless service through the activities of the National Service Scheme (NSS), National Cadet Corps (NCC), Eco Club, Equal Opportunity Cell (EOC) and Women's Development Cell (WDC). Committees like the newly formed Centre For Promotion of Inclusivity (CFPI) represent the spirit of the college, where we welcome individuals from all backgrounds, communities and orientations. Academia during the pandemic crisis has continued with passion and fervour. We have shifted to digital platforms and knowledge exchange has been consistent through interactive online classes and regular mentoring of students at every level.

Success and achievements are to be celebrated. If you believe in yourself, you can do something extraordinary in life and 'make things happen' and live a life unshackled by fears. I believe that achievement, of whatever kind is, the crown of effort. With the aid of self-control, resolution, purity of purpose and well-directed thought, a person will excel, in spite of all odds.

Stay safe, stay connected.

About the Talk

As children, we are made to learn numbers - from integers to reals to complex. We are also taught rules to compose numbers in a given context (addition, subtraction, multiplication, etc.). This serves as the foundation of most of the mathematics that we learn thereafter. Much before our encounter with numbers, we start observing symmetry in our toys and faces around us. Did we ever learn rules to compose symmetries? Perhaps we were waiting for a Group Theory course! Composing symmetries comes under the realm of Group Theory, a subject that empowers us to play with symmetries in shapes and nature, and also allows us to deal with some interesting puzzles. In short, this lecture is all about "multiplication table" of symmetries, and its applications.

The screenshot shows a Zoom meeting interface. On the left, a presentation slide titled "Symmetry : Idea of the day" is displayed. The slide includes a "Keyword" section with a bulleted list: "Symmetry", "Permutations", and "Groups". Below the text, there are two pairs of images. The first pair shows a white figure on a red background, with an arrow pointing from the original figure to its mirror image. The second pair shows five vertical sticks, with an arrow pointing from the original set to a mirrored set. On the right side of the Zoom window, a vertical column of six video thumbnails shows the faces of the meeting participants.

SHIVAJI COLLEGE NCC COY 2DBN & 7DGBN

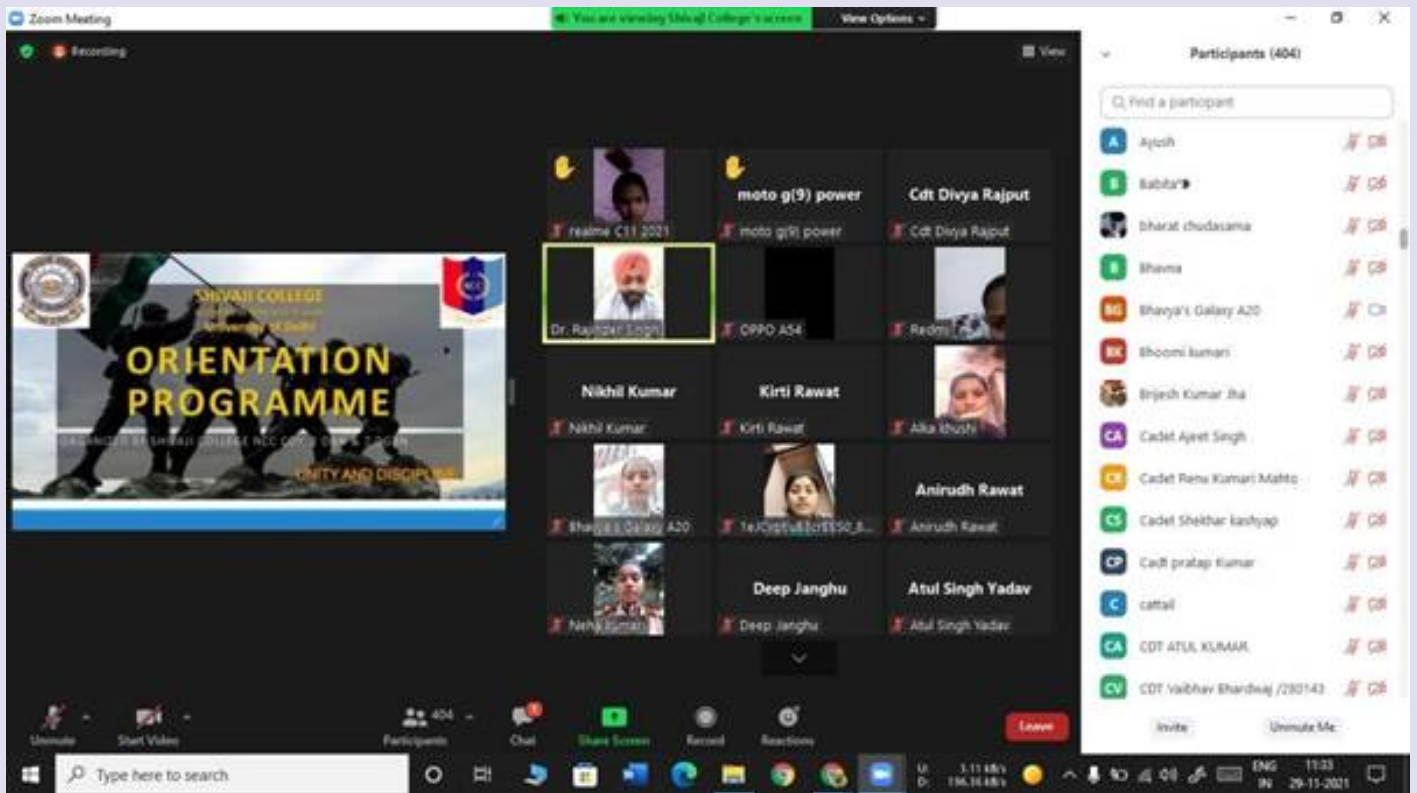

The Shivaji College NCC Coy organised an orientation program on 29th of November, a day after 73rd NCC Day was observed, to describe all about NCC to the new young people eager to join Shivaji NCC Coy's next term. Also, all those who were doubtful of their decision of becoming a part of the Coy were made very clear that they have indeed made the right choice.

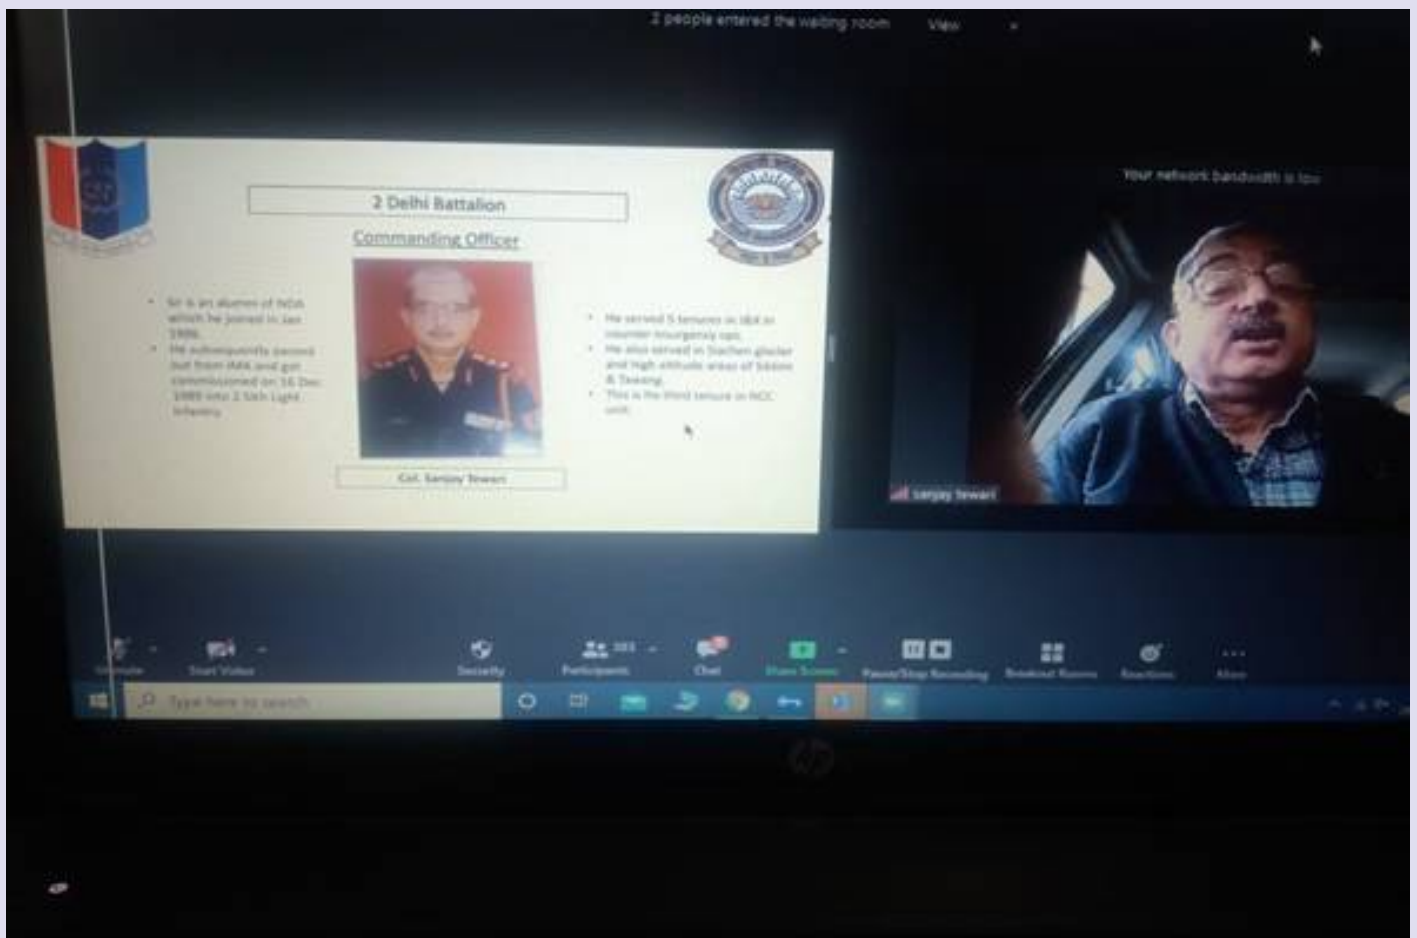

The orientation was very well manoeuvred by the two anchors i.e. CDT Nikhil Kumar and CDT Kirti Rawat which was carried out with the right pace and in a justified chronology. TIMELINE:

Keeping in mind the pandemic threats that are put forward by large physical gatherings, the event was organised online which also proved to be more convenient.

The event started sharp at 1100 hrs and immediately the participants joined in significant numbers. This shows that the information about the event was well conveyed by the organisers.

The hosts introduced the chief guests and special guests as Principal Prof. Shiv Kumar Sahdev Sir, ANO Lt. (Dr) Rajinder Singh Sir and Lt. Deepti Ma'am.

At first Principal Sir addressed the participants and with his inspiring words he filled everyone with enthusiasm and his wise words proved to be of real significance. Soon after Principal sir ended his speech, Col. Sanjay Tewari (CO 2DBn) took over and his experience in the armed forces happened to be very useful for all where he also told that how helpful can be joining NCC for young minds. Col. Gurpreet Singh, Sena Medal (CO 7DGBn) sir was expected to join today but due to some unavoidable circumstances he could not join but did send his blessings for all of us.

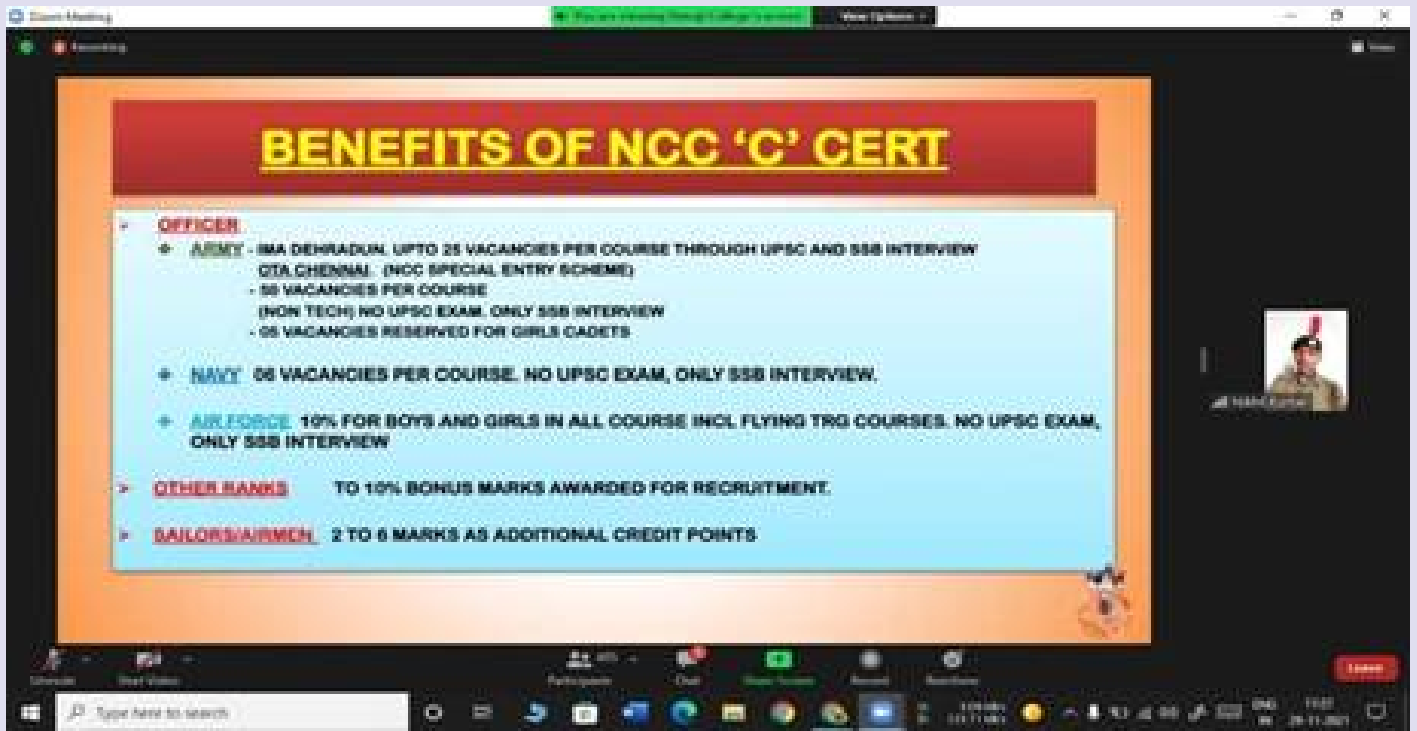

Now, by 1125 HRS it was the time for a simultaneously inspiring and informative video about NCC. The video turned out to be a good example of "fascination with reality not compromised". The aim of the video was further fulfilled by the two anchors where by 1130 HRS they started to formally brief the participants about NCC in detail and talked about history of NCC, aim of NCC, opportunities provided by the organisation, importance of 'A', 'B' or 'C' certificate, good career opportunities through NCC i.e., in IMA, OTA or as an ANO, described about camps like army attachment camp, YEP, etc., participation in social service and about eligibility for joining.

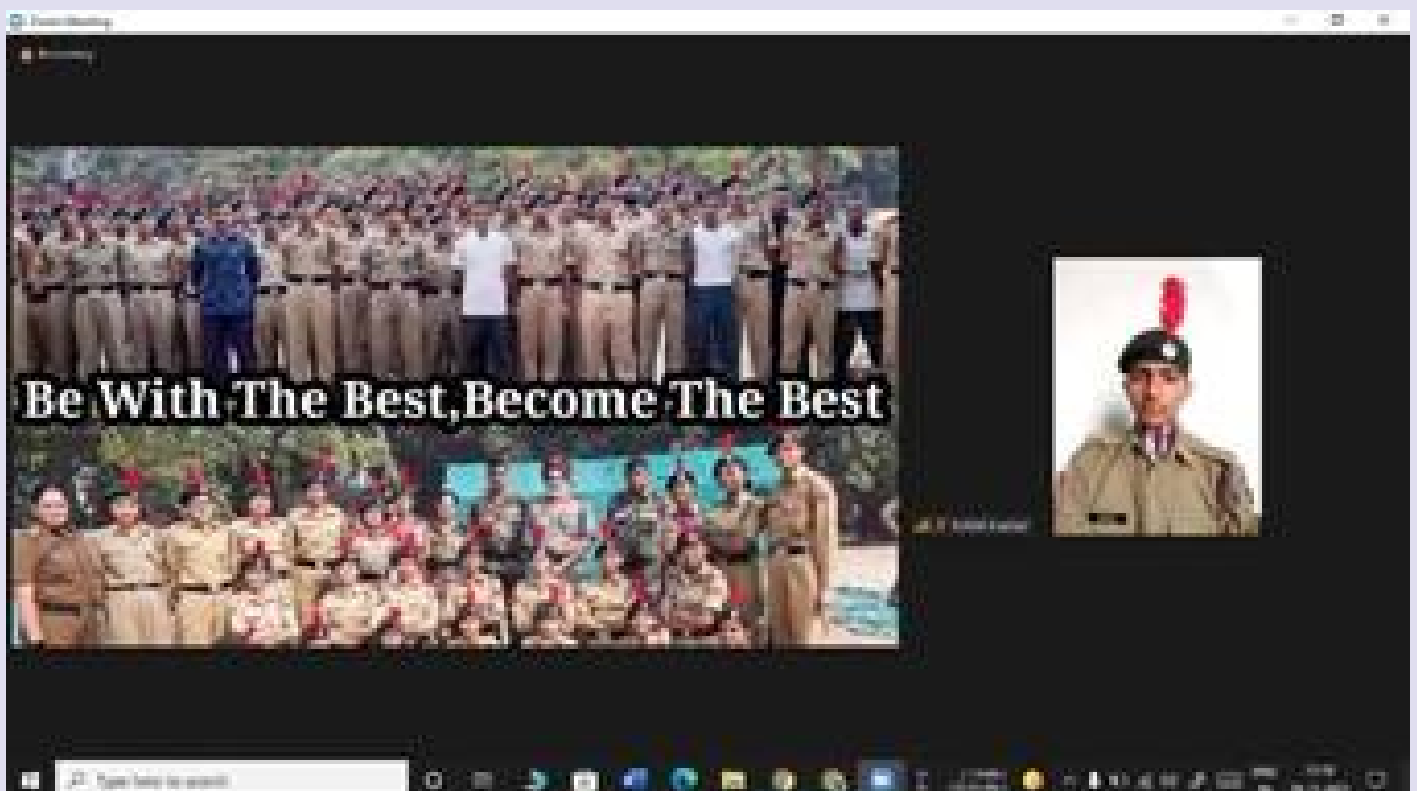

By 1140 HRS, the seniors of the Coy started narrating their stories of experience in NCC. JUO Nishant sir told how NCC is responsible for significant enhancements in his personality and also narrated his RDC camp experience.

Also, SUO Neha Kumari described how NCC presented opportunities to her, which as a civilian would never come to her, and how she experienced a colourful life being in NCC.

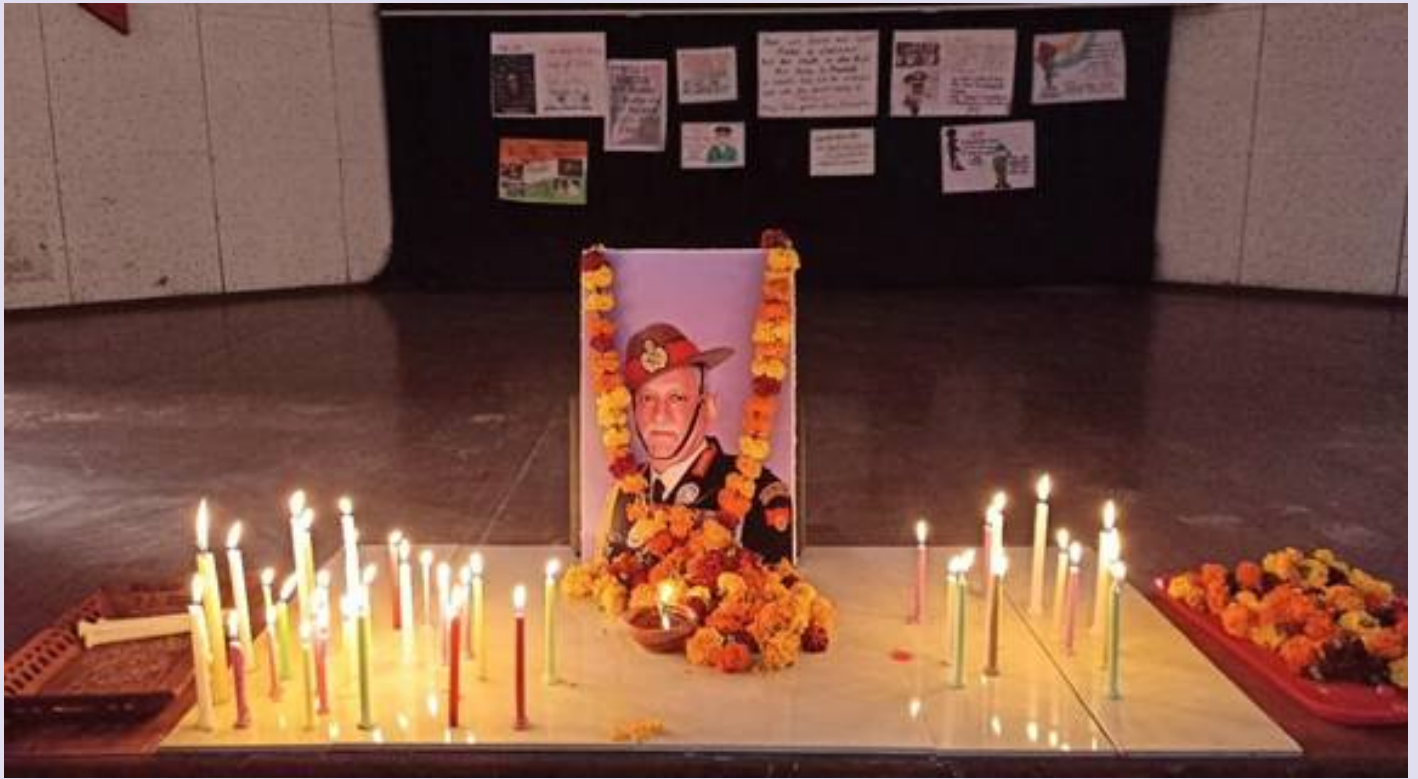

Soon after this ANO sir made his address and took up all the queries of the curious participants which made them comfortable in understanding all they wanted to know. By 1200 HRS, the hosts formally marked the end of the event with everything satisfactorily completed!

The event saw a huge gathering of 405 participants and yes, the programme was a success as it fulfilled its aim in all aspects i.e. made the curious participants know whatever they wanted explaining everything in the right context, eliminating the hesitation of the aspirants which was a consequence of lack of knowledge about NCC and made them realise that they have made a worthy decision to join NCC

The webinar was conducted under the guidance of respected convenor Ms. Iti Dandona. The workshop started after a little orientation about the protocols of society.

All the attendees felt fortunate to have a workshop of a professional millionaire trader “Mr. Ravi Chandiramani”. He has been working for years in trading and taught many about trading and its principles through his experience. He is the face of the “Trade Legend” company.

The workshop started with an interactive session, he asked a few questions about trading and traders so that he can understand the pre-existing knowledge of buddies. For the clear conceptual understanding of participants, he adequately answered his questions. He conducted several polls in which he asked about specific terms used in trading so that he can clarify the basics of individuals and proceed with the session.

He explained the types of markets in trading, mentioning domestic institutional investors and foreign institutional investors. And even differentiate big, small and native traders too, in ease.

He elaborated why native traders who constitute 95% failed in the Indian stock market while the rest 5% are successful as professional traders. He highlighted some of the key points a trader should know before starting.

Two Ways To Earn From Market

View Point	Trade Type	Entry	Exit Take Profit	Exit Stop Loss
BULLISH	LONG	BUY	SELL	SELL
BEARISH	SHORT*	SELL	BUY	BUY

*Short Trade is Possible Only in Intraday if we trade in Spot/Cash or else it is possible in Futures

BUY (Bull) SELL (Bear)

He then explained the importance of knowing the difference, merits and demerits of the Bull and the bear market. He suggested, “In case, you don't have an initial investment to buy the stocks, then you can also borrow stocks”.

He described the investors and traders after that about the difference between fundamental and technical analysis, how to read the candle chart and even the trend of the market with the 7 golden rules.

After answering the curious questions of the participants, he winded up the session. He recommended opting for a proper course to learn trading and its principles. And mentioned his own designed course on trade and market, with a nominal fee.

Mr. Khet Singh took part in the webinar as chief guest, compromising his precious time, to give an insight into the mindset of an entrepreneur, to the young and budding entrepreneurs. Mr. Khet Singh is a graduate student from IIM Bangalore. He became the co-founder of ClaimBuddy, a growing startup as a second-year student.

Mr. Khet Singh started with his dynamic journey and interacted with students about business ideas and dared to execute them. After reviewing, he concluded "Pivoting around ideas and solutions is the key."

A path where you know every step of yours may tend to zero, to overcome this negativity, he shared a few quotations. After that, he focused on working style as "Must's 3 Steps First Principle Thinking" that follows as:

- Identify and define your current assumptions
- Breakdown the Problems into its Fundamental Principles
- Create the solution from scratch.

"These fundamental principles are the most basic truths or elements of anything. The best way to uncover these truths is to ask powerful questions" Then he advised, "those who are working on their first venture should work with their friends and try on strangers after the success or the failure of the first venture".

Further, he explained the need and development of a prototype to test the venture. The test and learn approach is different from random trial and error. Analyzing and testing the process makes a prototype more effective. That's why people resist prototyping and why it's so important.

The two beliefs that help him in his journey are “ Don't be emotional with your ideas” and “ First mover has the advantage”.

On moving to the last session of QnA, he answered the budding minds very logistically.
