It was a matter of great satisfaction delivering a talk on Ch. Shivaji Maharaj at Shivaji College, Delhi, founded by late Punjabrao Deshmukh. While underlining Shivaji was an emperor & not a king when he died in 1680 i said Bharat can't be a great nation by ignoring his message.

I said the length of his kingdom was 1600 kms when he left the world — More than the distance between Kabul-Ghur & Delhi. And within 78 years of his death Marathas captured Peshawar. I said the distance between Peshawar & Pune from where bulk of Maratha forces came is 2300 kms , which is slightly less than the distance between Delhi & Tehran. I said he was not only the reviver of Chanakya Niti & Navy but also the greatest reformer king & greatest builder of forts.

Both the students & professors felt inspired by the talk. The occasion was the valedictory function of Shivaji Maharaj's 350th Rajyabhishek celebrations. The college also an academic wing named after Jija Mata. The entire place reflected Shivaji's spirit with both students & professors inspired by it.
